GREAT SUFFERING ALONG RIVER U. S. IS TAKING NO CHANCES

Old Time River Men Say That Never Has There Been Such Desolation.
Number of Towns Inundated, Water from Mississippi River Joining That of the Gulf.

By The Associated Press.
New Orleans, Oct. 2.—The list of known dead was increased to 202 to-night, when two more bodies were found at Rigolets and two were picked up in the harbor at Gulfport.

Governor Hall issued an appeal to-night to the people of New Orleans for money to be used in caring for storm sufferers in St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes. It was stated that six thousand are in need of assistance in Plaquemines and between five and six hundred in St. Bernard.

Reports of great suffering along the lower Mississippi river were brought to the city tonight by arrivals from that section. Captain Garrity, a river pilot, declared that in twenty years of river service he had never before witnessed such devastation as wrought by Wednesday's storm. Many towns are inundated by water from cracks in the river embankments. At Socorro, on the west bank of the river 55 miles below New Orleans, the surrounding country is being flooded by what Captain Garrity describes as the worst crevasse he ever saw. Near the mouth of the river, Bayou and a number of other villages have been inundated, water from the river having joined that of the gulf.

The large British steamer Birchwood was driven aground at Gulfport. Another steamer owned by the H. Weston Lumber company of New Orleans, and the tugs Eleanor and Clara of Gulfport were sunk in that harbor.

Hopes were expressed here today by persons familiar with conditions in the storm and flood area of lower Louisiana and Mississippi that the total death toll would not exceed 350, notwithstanding discouraging reports were brought in by vessels of the section in Plaquemines parish, Louisiana. The reports stated there were great numbers of marooned persons lining the river banks in that section who were sorely in need of food and shelter, and fears were felt that fatalities might result before adequate relief could be afforded. Rescue boats have been sent to the section.

With the exception of a few isolated points, reports have been received of the storm's havoc in almost the entire district. The exact number of fatalities among the reported dead and missing cannot be determined until a thorough checking up has been completed by the authorities of the various communities, which probably cannot be done until the waters recede. A large section of the area now under water was uninhabited marsh land, and it was believed that most of the people living on plantations along the river headed the widely distributed warnings of the weather bureau and reached places of refuge before the storm.

Relief Boats Sent Out.

The relief boats which have been sent out to various points to rescue and succor persons marooned and suffering from hunger have not yet returned, but a number of refugees have been brought to the city on small boats coming in from the lower Mississippi and the lakes and bayous. Governor Hall arrived here today to assist the parish and city officials and the citizens' committee in the relief work. A number of additional relief boats were sent out by the committees, firms and individuals to-day.

Five white women and their eleven children perished at De La Croix, while the five husbands clinging to the roof of a house almost within reach of their loved ones struggling in the water, according to the story told by a relative of one of the survivors arriving here. The women and the children had been placed in a skiff by the men, who themselves found refuge on a roof floating in the flood. The skiff suddenly was swept under the roof by the swirling waters and the occupants were drowned. The victims were Mrs. Casimiro Perez and two children; Mrs. Raphael Perez and one child; Mrs. Adolph Casimiro and four children; Mrs. Joseph Rice and one child; Mrs. Francis Musters and three children; and Manuel Morales.

The Louisville and Nashville railway suffered heavy damage and it is believed it will be impossible to operate trains over the line for some time.

Eight hundred feet of the two-mile trestle across the bay at Bay St. Louis was badly damaged. Fifteen spans of the steel trestle at Rigolets were destroyed. Parts of the bridges of Chef Menteur and Dunbar also went down. For many miles both east and west of Rigolets the roadbed, built across the marshes and exposed to the full force of the wind and high seas, was washed away.

Railroad service out of New Orleans rapidly is becoming normal, the Louisville and Nashville and the New Orleans and Northern, the latter operated by the Queen and Crescent, being the only lines that have not resumed traffic. The Southern Pacific, Texas and Pacific, Louisiana railway and Navigation company, the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley, and the Illinois Central, are operating trains on regular schedules.

Conditions in New Orleans were almost normal today. Trolley service

Bryan May Attend Texas Anti-Saloon League Meeting

William Jennings Bryan, ex-secretary of state, will very probably attend the next annual meeting of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, provided he does not make his proposed peace trip to Europe—which does not seem probable at present—and he has tentatively agreed to make several speeches in this state. The case that issue is submitted to the people within the next few years in the form of a constitutional amendment.

These promises were made yesterday by Dr. A. J. Barton, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, in the course of an interview between them en route from Dallas to Hillsboro. Dr. Barton, a member of the reception committee to Mr. Bryan at Dallas, made the trip down to Hillsboro, the distinguished Nebraskan and temperance advocate, and Mr. Bryan told him that if he spent the winter at his home at Miami, Fla., as he now thinks he will, he will come over to Texas for the Anti-Saloon League convention before filling an engagement at Lincoln, Neb., the latter part of next March. The convention will probably be named at some date in March to suit Mr. Bryan's convenience.

As has been announced before, it is the purpose of the Anti-Saloon League to seek to have the question of state-wide prohibition re-submitted in the form of a constitutional amendment in 1917. In the event of such submission, Mr. Bryan said that, subject to such unexpected events as might conflict, he would try and come to Texas and make speeches in behalf of prohibition in a number of the larger cities. Dr. Barton, who arrived in Waco last night to spend a couple of days with his family after speaking twice at Moody today, was greatly encouraged at Mr. Bryan's tentative acceptance of his invitations and he believes the commoner's coming to Texas on the mission indicated will have a large influence in behalf of the amendment.

Tuesday Dr. Barton will leave for Columbus, Ohio, and Washington, D. C. At the first place he will attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of America, which convenes on Thursday, while on Saturday he has called a meeting of the committee of nineteen, named by the national conference of all temperance and prohibition organizations of the country, to look after the interests of the Hobson-Sheppard resolution, which seeks to submit the question of national prohibition amendment to a vote of the states. This committee will convene in Washington to decide on preparations for the introduction of the resolution again when congress convenes.

Seven Thousand Troops Are on Constant Guard—Bandits May Make Effort to Raid When Their Food Supply Is Exhausted—Nafarrete Is to Be Transferred.

By The Associated Press.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 2.—Peace along the lower Rio Grande frontier depends almost wholly on the action of the Carranza authorities in stopping the unrestricted use of the Mexican side of the river as a refuge from pursuit and justice. This was the opinion of American army officers to-day. It was based on reports reaching army and civil officials.

Today completed the first consecutive week since July 5, without either a raid by Mexicans on Texas ranches or skirmishes across the Rio Grande between Mexicans and American soldiers. Reports to army officers indicated clearly that virtually all the Mexican raiders have for the present been forced across the Rio Grande. Reports from Carranza authorities in Matamoros admitted the presence of nearly 100 of these raiders on the Mexican side. Unless the Carranza soldiers attack these bands, officers here believe that hunger, shortage of money and lack of equipment will soon force them back across the river on new raids. With nearly five thousand American troops constantly under arms awaiting just such a venture, every raid seems likely to develop a fight which will be carried to the international line as the bandits follow the usual tactics of retreat and every fight across the boundary intensifies the enemy's gains. The Americans will immediately begin a skirmish to an actual battle before morning.

An American returned today from a periodic trip through that section, feeling that things against Americans appeared to be going somewhat evenly. Announcement today by General E. P. Nutting at Matamoros that a new Mexican commander is coming to handle the border situation on the Mexican side and that Carranza officers are locating the hiding places of bandits, while it relieved the tension somewhat on the American side, was not considered sufficient. Until the Carranza soldiers actually begin bandit hunting it can only be stated authoritatively that American troops will continue each night to prepare for anything from a skirmish to an actual battle before morning.

De La Rosa Died. The report that Luig de La Rosa, known as the brains of "The Texas Revolution," was ambushed and killed yesterday by deputy sheriffs was discredited flatly by army officers at Mission, Texas, today. De La Rosa was still on the Mexican side today a refugee and plotting according to a report from General E. P. Nafarrete, the Carranza commander at Matamoros, who said he was taking steps to catch or kill de La Rosa and his band. Sheriff W. T. Vann of Brownsville, however, was so interested by the Mission report of the bandit leader's fate that he would go there personally to investigate. Mission is about 75 miles up the river from here. It is known that American peace officers had arranged a trap to lure de La Rosa across the river somewhere between here and Mission and then catch him. The plan was to take him prisoner. Sheriff Vann was told yesterday's ambush was discovered prematurely by the Mexicans and that a fight spoiled plans to capture any of them alive, besides permitting several Mexicans to escape.

Colonel A. P. McCormick, commanding the cavalry patrols which guard the international boundary, increased his watchfulness for bandits. If the Carranza forces begin to drive the bad men of Mexico, the American troops expect to catch some of them crossing to this side of the river.

Announce Nafarrete's Change.

The transfer of Brigadier General E. P. Nafarrete, the Carranza commander at Matamoros from this border, a change which American officers here consider highly important in helping to restore peace on the international boundary was announced by General Nafarrete himself today. He said that General Eugenio Lopez now with the Carranza army near Torreon, is expected to succeed him at Matamoros.

General Nafarrete said that the five Texas Mexicans captured near Ca-margo, Mexico, one of whom was wounded, will be brought to Matamoros for trial by military court. No reply has been received. General Nafarrete said to his request for instructions from General Trevino to attack bandits whose presence has been discovered in the woods on the Mexican side opposite Progreso. He has learned today that about seventy-five of these bandits have been seen in that section by Mexicans.

General Nafarrete said that these bandits were the "men of Luis de La Rosa and of Antonio Pizano," Mexican residents of that section. They saw three wounded Mexicans. These wounded probably were shot in last week's fight across the river with American troops.

Colonel P. A. Sampson, commanding

the cavalry patrols which guard the international boundary, increased his watchfulness for bandits. If the Carranza forces begin to drive the bad men of Mexico, the American troops expect to catch some of them

crossing to this side of the river.

WOMAN KILLS MAN IN BIG CROWD AT THE HILLSBORO FAIR

Special to the Morning News.

Hillsboro, Tex., Oct. 2.—Dr. A. C. Saylor is dead and Mrs. Joe Kirkpatrick in the custody of Sheriff Long as a result of a shooting which occurred at the fair grounds as people were leaving at the conclusion of the speech of William Jennings Bryan and in a big crowd. Both no one else was wounded seems a miracle. Both parties are from Bryan.

Immediately following the shooting, the victim was placed in an auto and carried to Williams & Leatherwood's undertaking establishment, where the body was viewed by Justice Wright. The pistol used was an automatic and the body showed several wounds, five in the chest.

Dr. Saylor was out on bond by order of the court of criminal appeals and his wife was on docket for next week.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick is the widow of deputy sheriff Saylor, who was killed

last year and for whose death Saylor was tried.

The woman approached an automobile in which Saylor was sitting, listening to the Bryan speech. The automobile was in front of the grandstand. Saylor had just passed through the throng shaking hands, when the woman fired and emptied the contents of a small caliber automatic pistol quickly following it with five shots from a second pistol. The woman surrendered to Sheriff Long of Hill county. The former cabinet member was not in danger.

Speaks of New Treaties.

He said that in this wild propaganda of preparedness they forgot that such an investment of arms and men would invite war. He declared that the amount demanded by these advocates of enormous preparedness was a sum which in ten years would aggregate $5,000,000,000, and that the people would not stand for this burden, which, if spent on macadam roads, would build roads only twelve miles apart across the United States both ways. This remark was cheered to the echo.

BELL COUNTY COURT
SPENDS DAY IN WACO

COMMISSIONERS OF BOTH COUNTIES DECIDE TO VISIT MARLIN COURT IN NOVEMBER.

Effort Will Be Made to Complete Good Road Between Here and Temple This Winter.

The entire commissioners' court of McLennan and Bell counties will visit the commissioners' court of Falls county on Wednesday, November 10, in an effort to get the Falls county people to assist in completing the road from Waco to Temple, a mile and a half of which runs through Falls county. This decision was reached after a joint meeting of the two courts here early yesterday.

Commissioners N. B. Vernon, A. J. Kykendall, W. B. Denman and John Hall and County Engineer Quarles of Bell county, were here yesterday as the guests of the Potts-Moore Gravel company. The odd proposition of completing the Waco-Temple road was taken up and the gravel company agreed to furnish the gravel free for the Falls county portion if that would result in its being completed.

Five and a half miles of the road is in McLennan county and three miles in Bell county. The trouble is that there is a mile and a half strip through Falls county, which really does the Falls county people little good, although very helpful to Bell and McLennan counties.

It was decided to try to push the road through this winter, which would make a good road all the way from Waco to San Antonio, and all the way from Denison to Waco, except a short stretch in Hill county.

was resumed practically to all parts of the city, electric and telephone wires were being untangled and the work of clearing away debris was well advanced.

Wreckage Being Removed.

Wreckage along the water front was being removed and repairs to docks and warehouses were under way. Small vessels which were swamped and battered to pieces against the wharves were being removed. Temporary light circuits were set up in many places on the water front and both day and night forces of workmen are employed in clearing away the debris and repairing damage.

Waters flooding the west part of the city were rapidly receding.

Regular service will be held in all New Orleans churches tomorrow, notwithstanding many of them were seriously damaged by the storm. Most of the pastors will preach special storm sermons.

To prevent possible attempts at looting of wrecked houses in portions of the city where the street lighting system is still out of commission, Superintendent of Police Reynolds instructed his police to arrest all persons found hanging around during the early hours of this morning. One hundred and forty-two negroes, unable to give satisfactory explanations of their presence in that neighborhood, were arrested. They will be put to work clearing away storm debris.

Thirty-six men, women and children from near Emporia were homeless, only partly clad and suffering from hunger and exposure, were brought here today by the power launch Protector B, by Captain L. Vantumca. The refugees told a story of the heroism of an eighteen-year-old boy, Amadee Favre, who they declared saved 105 persons from the flood at Doullut canal, in the vicinity of Empire.

When the hurricane swept over the settlement and the waters of the Mississippi swept away the levee and flooded the little town with from three to seven feet of water the lives of the 105 inhabitants of the lower end of the town were imperiled. Amadee Favre, according to the refugees, jumped into his skiff and rowed out to the homes, taking back to high ground a boat-load of marooned dwellers. Time and again he made the trip, although pieces of wreckage swirled around his small craft and the rushing waters threatened to swamp it. Before the storm had reached its height he had removed all the residents to the home of Andrew Bowens. House after house began to tumble and float away, but the family had been removed by the youth in his skiff and not a resident of the lower end of the town was injured or drowned.

The Protector B was the first boat to go from New Orleans into the Doullut canal section after the hurricane, and Captain Favre was told of distressing conditions there. He asserted that men, women and children marooned along the river banks were crying for something to eat; that many of the refugees were scarcely clad and in some sections they had only frail shelters hastily built from wreckage.

"The people told me they had had nothing to eat for two days," said the captain. "Women with babies in their arms fell on their knees and begged for bread. We gave them everything we had and taking on board thirty-six of those in the poorest physical condition started for New Orleans."

Refugee Need Medical Attention.

All the refugees brought here were in need of medical attention.

Other persons arriving here from Empire postoffice stated that about 300 persons were huddled in the upper floors and lots of the four large buildings left standing in that village.

ROCKEFELLER, JUNIOR, AND W.
L. MACKENZIE KING—CAMPS TO

UNIONS ARE NOT RECOGNIZED

No Discrimination Against Members of Mine Workers, But the Proposed Conference Plan, Divided Into Four General Sections, Is Intended to Meet Demands of Men.

By The Associated Press.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 2.—Collective bargaining, insured by a contract signed and sealed with a term of years, was promised today by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the employees of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company whose contract was embodied in the industrial plan submitted by Mr. Rockefeller at a meeting of officers of the company and grievance representatives from the various coal camps. The plan carries a guarantee against discrimination against members of any union but does not provide for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America. The industrial system outlined at the conference is looked upon as the Rockefeller answer to the demands of the United Mine Workers, which led to one of the most bitter industrial conflicts in history. Mr. Rockefeller himself has steadfastly maintained that his plan is not an attack upon unionism but is "broader and more democratic."

The Rockefeller plan, formulated by Mr. Rockefeller and W. L. Mackenzie King in collaboration with operating officials of the company, is based upon the mediation system already in operation. The outline of the plan submitted to the conference is divided into four general sections:

1. Representation of employees and the majority of their selection.

2. District conferences, joint committees and joint meetings.

3. The prevention and adjustment of industrial disputes.

4. Social and industrial betterment.

The proposal also contains a memorandum of agreement between the company and its employees.

To Select Representatives.

The miners at each camp are to elect representatives on a basis of one for every 150 wage earners. Each camp is entitled to at least two representatives.

For mediation purposes the company's camps are divided into five districts.

For the settlement of disputes and the discussion of problems, district conferences shall be held, attended by the grievance representatives from all the camps in the district and company officers, not exceeding in number the representatives of the miners.

These delegates are to select from their number joint committees of six members each, on industrial co-operation and conciliation, safety and accident prevention, health and housing and recreation and education.

The plan makes elaborate for the settlement for industrial disputes. After pledging the corporation and its employees to observe the federal and state mining laws the management states:

"There shall be no discrimination by the company or by any of its employees on account of membership or non-membership in any society, fraternal or union."

Another clause says:

Right to Hire and Fire.

An over-zealous friend is more to be feared than an avowed enemy. Fault-finding requires less ability than any of the other popular professions.

The dollar still has a high purchasing power in the honor market.

The doctrine of forgiveness is more easily preached than practiced.

As a disturber of the equilibrium of the natural order, man is a pronounced success.

For what shall it profit a nation if it shall gain the whole world's commerce and lose its own peace?

The dollar still has a high purchasing power in the honor market.

The explanation of the tremendous recuperative power which a people exhibit after war or other great calamity lies in the fact that in normal times they live up to only a fractional part of their possible efficiency.

In the commonly observed fact that followers of duty find contentment while the seekers of pleasure find disappointment is found verification of the moral principle embodied in the statement that he that loseth his life shall find it and he that seeketh his life shall lose it.

A minor or group of miners with a grievance against the company shall not discharge without notification that a repetition will cause dismissal. The company reserves the privilege of relieving employees from duty on account of lack of work.

Employees are guaranteed the right to hold meetings and to purchase of supplies where they please and to employ check weighmen.

A minor or group of miners with a grievance against the company shall not discharge without notification that the matter is referred to the camp's elected representative. The representative must first seek adjustment from the foreman or superintendent. Failing to receive satisfaction he then is at liberty to appeal to the president's individual representative, at present David Griffiths or to the higher officers of the company up to President J. F. Welborn.

Another method of settlement open to the miners is appearing before district joint committee on conciliation. If the committee fails to hear, it may be binding on all parties.

If the joint committee fails to adjust a dispute, it is provided that it shall be settled by arbitration or by reference to the Colorado state industrial commission.

The company guarantees the grievances of the men against unjust discharge or discrimination and provides that a representative who thinks he has been the victim of discrimination may appeal to the state industrial commission.

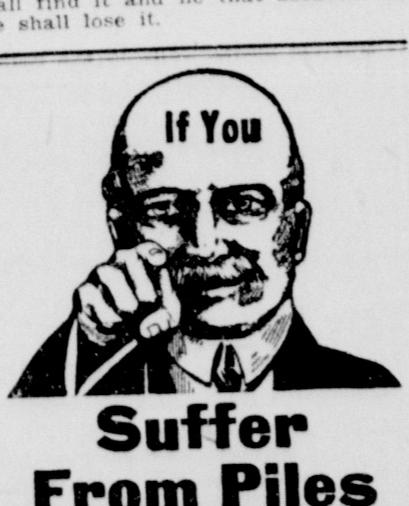

The contract or "memorandum of agreement" appended to the statement is as follows:

"The following stipulations respecting employment, living and working conditions shall govern the parties to January 1, 1918, and shall remain thereafter subject to revision upon ninety days' notice of either parties."

"The charge for employees for dwellings without bath shall not exceed two dollars per room per month."

"The present uniform charge of forty cents per electric light per month with free light on porches shall not be increased."

"There shall be no charge for domestic water except in cases where the company is obliged to purchase the same, in such cases the charges shall be substantially cost to the company."

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN REVIVAL SERVICES WILL BEGIN TODAY

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO GET TEMPLE GOAT

SPECIAL EXCURSION OF WACOANS WILL MAKE ATTEMPT TOMORROW.

Beginning with a Sunday school rally, the Central Christian church will start today on a revival which will last at least two weeks and perhaps longer. Plans have all been made, committees are at work and every effort will be made to make the meeting a great success.

Rev. F. N. Calvin, the pastor, will open the revival with two sermons today. After the morning service, the official board will meet in the church parlors to see that every detail of the work has been attended to and that all the committees are active.

The speaker of the preaching will be done by Rev. Hugh McClellan of San Antonio, who is one of the best evangelistic speakers of the Disciples in Texas. The choir has been largely augmented and the music will be one of the features of the meeting.

In spite of the falling depression last year, the congregation remodeled its church building, making it one of the finest in the city. The same energy that was put into the building campaign will now be transferred to the revival and the members of the church are confident that the harvest will be abundant.

PUBLIC SERVANTS HAVE SPECIAL DAY

COTTON PALACE DIRECTORS SET NOV. 19 APART FOR OFFICE-HOLDERS AND OTHERS.

PROMINENT MEN HAVE ACCEPTED

Governor, Senators, Congressmen and County and District Officers Coming from Every Section.

The statesman and the politician are to have their inning at the Cotton Palace. Something absolutely unique has been planned and the idea has taken like wildfire. Nov. 19 is to be "Public Servants' Day" and almost countless men whose names are household words over the broad domain of the Lone Star State will be here for the occasion.

Every officeholder from the governor down on the line will be invited to be present on Nov. 19, which the directors of the Cotton Palace have designated as "Public Servants' Day." In addition to the present officeholders, all former officeholders and all those who expect to run for public office in the future will receive a cordial invitation to be present. The people are curious to know about the men who are running their government, they are also eager to learn something about the men who aspire to perform that function in the future. The Cotton Palace is located in the central part of the state, easy of access from all parts, and from the large number of responses that have already been received from many of the prominent men of affairs, there will be a tremendous gathering of public men on that day.

It will be the first time in the history of Texas that a gathering of that kind has been held. Men of large affairs claim that it will do more to harmonize and build up the state than anything else that could be done. It will be a great day for Texas. A program will be arranged that will go down in history as a record breaker.

Among the most prominent state officials who have already signified their intention to be present, might be mentioned Gov. James E. Ferguson, Attorney General B. F. Looney, J. M. Edwards, state treasurer; Allison Mayfield, chairman state railroads commission; Earle B. Mayfield, member state railroad commission; Secretary of State John G. McKay; Will S. Mayes, president of the department of transportation; John M. Woods, speaker of the legislature, and W. F. Doughty, state superintendent of public instruction. Acceptances are pouring in on every mail.

Former Governor O. B. Coplitt, now a candidate for the United States Senate, to succeed Charles A. Culberson, is enthusiastic over Public Servants' Day. He writes as follows: "I have always felt a keen interest in the success of the Texas Cotton Palace, and I have in the past keenly appreciated the kindness of your people. I have shown me when attending opening days and on other special occasions. I had promised myself the pleasure of a visit to the Cotton Palace this year to enjoy the exhibits unhampered by public duties, and it will give me especial pleasure to accept your invitation for Public Servants' Day on Nov. 19."

Cone Johnson, soldier of the state department, writes from Washington as follows: "I would appreciate the invitation to attend the Cotton Palace on Public Servants' Day—an occasion which I regard as the result of a happy conception and which am sure will be in every way successful. I shall endeavor to so arrange my plans that I can be present."

Morris Shepard, United States senator, writes: "I hope that he appreciates the invitation and that he will do his best to be present, as it will give him a fine opportunity to mingle with his friends.

Thomas H. Ball, former candidate for governor, says: "I am glad to receive your invitation to be present on Public Servants' Day at the Cotton Palace. I had expected to try and take a day or two off in order to be in every way successful. I shall endeavor to so arrange my plans that I can be present."

John W. Woods, speaker of the house of representatives of Texas, says: "It will give me pleasure to be at the Cotton Palace on Public Servants' Day. I know of nothing at present to prevent me from being there."

B. F. Looney, general of Texas, writes: "I wish to thank you for the courtesy of an invitation and be glad to say that it will be a pleasure for me to accept same."

Major Henry D. Lindsey of Dallas and a committee of 100 prominent citizens look upon Public Servants' Day as an excellent opportunity to assist him in the task of bringing them to Waco on that day. They will send a large delegation of their strongest men on that day.

John W. Riddle of Dallas is doing his share to make the day a great success. He is sending out invitations to every mayor in Texas to visit the Cotton Palace on that occasion.

County Clerk John W. Baker believes the association will be a great democratic contribution for Texas. They will send a large delegation of their strongest men on that day.

The association is planned for the last three days of the week and will close the business sessions with the annual election of officers. The program will include addresses by some of the ablest men of the Baptist denomination, different phases of the work both at home and in the foreign fields. Sunday closes the association at which time the regular sermon only will be the feature.

All the Baptist preachers of Waco have planned to be present during the entire three day session and besides these many of the leaders of the denominational work will attend part or all of the meetings. Quite a number of the ministerial students of Baylor have already expressed themselves as expecting to go to Mart Friday and be present at the remainder of the association.

Delivery routes in the CITY of Waco

are in the hands of independent carriers,

who buy their news at wholesale prices,

and whose accounts are due them, not

the Waco Morning News. They will be compelled to pay for their best delivery service, and this board will employ a business manager at a salary of $5,000 per annum.

The mayor receives $2,400 per annum, and each commissioner $1,000 per annum, a total of $6,400.

What the advocates of the Dayton plan propose is a board of five commissioners,

each receiving a salary of $60 per annum, and this board to employ a business manager at a salary of $5,000 per annum.

Let the people of the whole city elect five commissioners without designation whatever; let these elect their presiding officer, changing whenever they like; let each have an equal vote, the majority to control, and no veto power by the presiding officer, and let this body, operating as a unit, select a business manager, with power to dismiss any day, the people being in control through the recall."

Under such a scheme as the Dayton plan, and as our neighbor suggests as a good one to be employed in Waco, there would be little or no need for a mayor, especially one drawing a salary, for the city attorney, or one of the commissioners, could welcome conventions, visiting delegations, and the like, and as for the matter of securing conventions for the city, that is more properly the work of our commercial and civic organizations.

But we are persuaded the commissioners charged with the duty of electing a city manager should be chosen from the city at large rather than from the various wards for a reversion to ward elections would mean a reversion to ward politics with all of its waste and inefficiency. Put a ward politician in office and he will feel obligated to reward his friends, regardless of whether his friends are capable of filling the places to which they aspire. We have had a few examples of the same thing in Waco even where the commissioners have been elected from the city

at large, but this will be obviated by the reduction of the salaries of the commissioners to a very small sum

and the placing of the appointment of the helpers in the various departments of the city government coming

under the direction of a city manager in the manager's hands. With both the salary and the appointive power largely removed from the office of commissioner, the politician will have no spoils to seek and the office will fail to attract.

A city manager plan under such regulations would, in our estimation,

work to the benefit of the city of Waco and we hope the convention that will doubtless assemble soon will give due consideration to it.

With the coming of natural gas and a daily paper, our neighbor town of Mart is "going some."

They tell the story of a man in New Jersey who lost the nomination for office while taking a bath. We have known some candidates who needed a bath much more than an office.

A college professor declares that poverty is a disease. And there are some thus afflicted who had rather endure

the malady than to take the advice of the physical culturists in order to cure themselves.

Judge W. L. Crawford of Dallas sets

aside the action of the governor in revoking the pardon of a man who was released from the penitentiary. Is the governor, pray, subordinate to an orinary district judge?

There are lots of mothers who did not raise their boys to be soldiers, but from our observations these sons ought to be pretty good soldiers if experience in fighting during their youth is any qualification.

Of course Dallas would shudder at burning witches, but she insists on fining, on charges of vagrancy, colony of persons who have committed no greater offense than remaining on their knees in prayer until their legs swelled.

"Sportsmanship first, then victory"

is the lofty motto that is flung to the breezes from the roof of the big grandstand and bath house on

Carroll Field, Baylor University.

That motto sounds good to every

Baylor man and to every lover of clean sport. There have been some indiscretions committed in Baylor athletics at times in the past, but these offenses never represented the true attitude of Baylor, and with the whole student body thoroughly imbued with this high ideal, the recurrence of unfair play will become a matter of impossibility.

A SUGGESTION FOR THE CHAR-TER CONVENTION.

A WISE EMPLOYER.

From a recent issue of our local contemporary, the Times-Herald, we have clipped the following editorial which is worthy of the consideration of the thirty members of the proposed charter convention that will give its attention to the revision of the present instrument:

"It would be competent for the city commission as now constituted to employ a business manager.

"The only objection to such a course would be in that much additional expense.

"The mayor receives $2,400 per annum, and each commissioner $1,000 per annum, a total of $6,400.

"What the advocates of the Dayton plan propose is a board of five commissioners, each receiving a salary of $60 per annum, and this board to employ a business manager at a salary of $5,000 per annum.

"Let the people of the whole city elect five commissioners without designation whatever; let these elect their presiding officer, changing whenever they like; let each have an equal vote, the majority to control, and no veto power by the presiding officer, and let this body, operating as a unit, select a business manager, with power to dismiss any day, the people being in control through the recall."

Under such a scheme as the Day-ton plan, and as our neighbor sug-gests as a good one to be employed in Waco, there would be little or no need for a mayor, especially one drawing a salary, for the city attorney, or one of the commissioners, could welcome conventions, visiting delegations, and the like, and as for the matter of securing conventions for the city, that is more properly the work of our commercial and civic orga-nizations.

But we are persuaded the commis-sioners charged with the duty of electing a city manager should be chosen from the city at large rather

Waco Day at Tyler Thursday This Week

Indications are that a big crowd of Waco people will take advantage of the cheap rates of admission by the Cotton Belt on Waco Day, Thursday of this week, at the East Texas fair at Tyler.

Last year two carloads attended the exposition in the City of Fruit. Tyler always sends a big delegation to the Cotton Palace and Waco people feel it their duty to reciprocate. Also the treatment accorded the visitors to the East Texas fair is well known and is a big inducement.

The Waco Y. M. C. A. tumbling team will take part in the program in the afternoon and night, which is presented in front of the big grandstand at the race track. The team will give an exhibition of hand-to-hand balancing,
tumbling, parallel bar work and bagpunching.

Just "Six" Facts

To you who are confused with and weary of long drawn out aside-from-the-point arguments, we present these Six important basic facts:

The Overland Six has a wheelbase of one hundred and twenty-five inches.

Many a Six—costing more—has a shorter wheelbase.

The Overland motor develops full forty-five horsepower.

Many a Six—costing more—has considerably less power; considerably less speed.

The Overland is a roomy Six—seating seven adults with ease.

Many a Six—costing more—has a smaller tonneau; hence less comfort.

The Overland Six has 35" x 4 1/2" tires with non-skids on the rear.

Many a Six—costing more—has smaller tires.

The Overland Six has high tension magneto ignition.

Many a Six—costing more—has not.

All Overland electric control buttons are on the steering column—within reach.

On other Sixes, that cost more, they are not as conveniently located.

These few major items alone should, we believe, convince any intelligent buyer of the downright wisdom and out-and-out economy of selecting an Overland Six.

TAKES THE PLACE OF DANGEROUS CALOMEL

New Discovery! Dodson's Liver Tone Acts Like Calomel But Doesn't Gripe, Salivate or Make You Sick—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Harmless Liver Medicine for Men, Women, Children—Read Guarantee!

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone.

Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

AMPLE GAS SUPPLY ASSURED FOR WINTER

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT CO. ALREADY HAS TWO REGULATORS IN WORKING SHAPE.

Force of 115 Men Busy Getting the Distributing Mains for Waco Perfected.

Since it is being covered up as fast as it is completed a great part of the work now being done on the gas distributing mains in Waco is not apparent to the casual observer.

However, one can easily imagine the vast amount which has been and is now being done when it is said that 115 men are now working under the supervision of Gas Foreman C. M. Thompson of the Texas Power and Light company.

Mr. Thompson states that two of the says.

three regulators which will regulate the supply of gas at the high pressure stage have already been put in working condition and are ready for the first cold spell which comes.

The natural gas from Mexia fields comes to Waco through a 10-inch main at a pressure of 150 pounds per square inch. At the edge of the city this pressure is reduced to 25 pounds by a regulator which keeps this pressure constant regardless of the amount of gas used.

The gas is supplied to the high pressure distribution system of the Texas Power and Light company at this pressure of 25 pounds and the three regulators reduce the pressure still further so that the average pressure on the ordinary residence is approximately 8 ounces.

Mr. Thompson states that the equipment now being put in will furnish all the natural gas needed this winter with some to spare. He says that people are just beginning to wake up to the fact it is time to begin thinking of winter heating requirements.

"Great many houses are being piped for gas and quite a few people who have furnaces are taking advantage of the convenience and cheapness of natural gas by having these furnaces fitted with gas burners," he says.

Mr. Thompson states that two of the says.

BOYS LEAD AGAIN IN BAYLOR STUDENTS

PRESIDENT BROOKS AND DEAN KESLER GO TO MEDICAL COLLEGE OPENING.

With the close of the second week of school, Baylor has enrolled 815 students. This was the number at the close of the week's work on Friday, compared with 725, the number enrolled up to November 7, 1914. Last year there were more girls in school than boys but out of the number this year, 413 are boys and 366 are girls. The year of 1914 was a departure from the usual enrollment as there had never been a majority of girls before, however, the boys came back this year and took the lead.

President Brooks and Dean Kesler spent Friday and Saturday in Dallas on the opening of Baylor Medical College. Dr. Brooks left Thursday and Professor Kesler left Friday. Both are enthusiastic over the year's work in the Medical school and are hopeful of bringing back reports that will be very pleasing as to the enrollment. Baylor's Medical School is growing rapidly and is fast becoming one of the foremost schools of its kind in the south.

Sophies Hold Annual Election.

At the regular meeting of the Erisophian Literary Society Friday night, the following officers were elected: W. S. Emmons of Stiles, La., president; H. G. Moore of Lott, recording secretary; A. Godsoe, Mayes Behrman and J. D. Coleman, vice presidents; Archie Holt, W. H. Barton and J. C. McElroy, assistant secretaries. The presidents, vice presidents and secretaries all act as judges in the several debating houses and grade and debater for the J. L. Matthews contest. J. M. McElroy was chosen as collector; A. H. Moore, as collector; B. H. P. Norton, corresponding secretary; J. A. Derrick, register and F. A. Godsoe, weekly critic. The duties of the sergeant-at-arms will be assumed by T. P. Tinsley and those of auditor by J. C. Curry. F. M. Ferguson was made chaplain and Lemuel Hall, librarian. The leaders of the various debating houses are H. C. Morrow, J. M. Davis, Hardin, Pool, D. A. Tatton, Roy Norton, J. M. McDade, H. C. Curry and Lemuel Hall. The representatives to the oratorical associations are F. A. Godsoe, J. D. Aldridge, J. D. Coleman, Mayes Behrman, T. E. Sanderford, H. G. Moore, Roy Porter, Joe Barnes, B. K. Burnett and J. M. McDade.

Since the new men have been signed up all interest is centered on the principal coming contests, mainly the Dangerous Debate. This debate is the biggest of the year and always held early in the winter quarter. Both societies make it a point of bending every effort to win this contest. For the last two years the Philos have won the contest but the Sophies say they're "coming back" while on the other hand the Philos are very confident of the victory. It is likely that the debaters will be elected two weeks from Friday.

R. C. B. Give Program for New Girls.

The Rufus C. Burleson Literary Society for young ladies held its annual open session in honor of the new girls Friday at 5 o'clock. A Japanese tea room with mats in Japanese costume was one of the very attractive features of the afternoon's entertainment. Immediately upon leaving the tea room, the guests were ushered into the Erisophian hall, where the introduction to the new ones took place. Each one was given a card and pen. Each one was given a card and pen, and instructed to get as many names on it as possible, exchanging family history and gossip as they went. Six minutes was the time allotted for the filling of the cards and Miss Hance was successful enough to get twenty-eight names on her card in the short time. The prize was a beautiful R. C. B. pennant. The visiting Erisophians were Messrs. G. B.

Rogers, '13; H. E. Willet, W. H. Barton, H. G. Moore, T. E. Sanderford, Roy Sanderford, J. C. McElroy and J. D. Isaacs.

At the regular meeting of the Phi Alphaian Society, Friday night, it was found that the reception given the new men on the previous Friday had done much good. Many new men were signed up and the gain in number was considerably more than had at first been expected. President J. W. Smith announces that he is very confident of a great year for the society and hopes to show that the old records of the Philos will stand for another year yet.

Baylor Pastors' Association Meets.

The members of the Baylor Pastors' Association met in Dr. Baldwin's room Tuesday for the purpose of electing officers for the present year and to hear from the various phases of the work to be done during the year.

A general get-together meeting was planned whereby all new members could become acquainted and establish a ground of common fellowship.

A great surprise to the faculty and student body was the news that spread rapidly on the campus during the early part of the week that Miss Martin Sheldon and bride, Miss Louise White, were passing through the city on their honeymoon. The bride was a student in Baylor having received her degree in August, at the close of the summer quarter. She will be remembered.

bored as one of Baylor's most attractive and most accomplished young women, who was very closely connected with the various phases of college life. The groom is a prominent man from Arizona who has come to make his home in Stephenville, Texas.

Try-outs for both the men's and the women's Glee Clubs are now being conducted by Director de Heck, who reports the very highest point of interest and that there will be many good voices in both. The Young Ladies' Club will be called the Young Ladies' Glee Club of Baylor University. Manager Farthing of the men's club has already started his correspondence with the view of arranging a number of dates for the club.

Freshmen to Hold Track Meet.

The first annual Freshman track and field meet will be held on Carroll Field Saturday, November 6. The contest will be open to all freshmen and prizes will be given to the winners of first, second and third places. In addition to this there will be an individual trophy given to the one winning the largest number of points.

Charles Parker, director of the Baylor band, has a large crowd working steadily and hopes by the time the football team returns from its road trip, to have one of the very best college bands in the state. Under his excellent direction and with the old material that he has, he will surely develop a bunch of musicians that will see and will present a beautiful spectacle.

Miss Besse Dainty Coming to Orpheum

Mr. Earle writes that he has completed arrangements to bring Miss Besse Dainty and her excellent comedy back to Waco this fall and will open in the Orpheum theatre Monday, Oct. 18.

Unlike last season, Miss Dainty will play one bill an entire weekend by so doing. Waco is assured of big productions and plays that are worth while. It is impossible to give a production and play two bills a week, therefore the company is going to give just one real play and they will be real, too; for instance, the opening play will be "Within the Law" to be followed by "Jerry," Billie Burke's starring play last season. It will be remembered as having played to a packed house at the Auditorium. The same may be said of "Within the Law."

Frederick Clark, who has been associated with the best companies on the road, and having been with Laurette Taylor lately, will be the director. He is said to be one of the best in the business. A splendid scenic artist will paint a complete production each week. Seats for seats will start three days before the opening.

Miss Dainty has not forgotten any of her many friends in Waco and will be just as glad to see them as they will be to see her.

A DEPARTMENT DEVOTED TO THE FOSTERING OF MUSICAL INTERESTS OF WACO AND CENTRAL TEXAS.

Choral Club Makes Good Beginning. On Wednesday, September 29, quite a number of singers met Mr. George Brierty of Austin for the purpose of forming a choral club. Mrs. E. P. Thompson and Mrs. G. M. Bishop are the managing committee. Much interest is being shown and it is confidently hoped that Waco will have a real choral society.

First Euterpean Concert October 26. The first artist to appear here in concert under the auspices of the Euterpean club will be Miss Mabel Riedemann, lyric soprano. Those in the Chicago Grand Opera company in Dallas in 1912 were more than delighted with her work both as a singer and actress. She was the singing leading role in Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel." Miss Riedemann's concert will be a treat to critics to be of a high order, interesting as she does a voice of unusual sweetness and flexibility, clear enunciation and magnetic personality.

Crafts Bazaar of Euterpean Juniors. Mrs. Virginia Ryan, who is to have charge of the junior department of the Euterpean club, has called a meeting to be held at the First Christian church, Music room, on October 12, to 16 years of age, to invite them to join. Each one is requested to bring notebook and pencil. This department is expected to be one of the most interesting features of the Euterpean work.

The Ministry of Music.

(By David Bischoff.) In the spring of 1914 I was on my concert tour on the Gulf Coast, and received a letter from President Sharpless of Haverford College, saying that the board of managers had decided to confer upon me the honorary degree of LL.D., Doctor of laws. To say I was surprised is an understatement of the highest order. I had no idea of the state of my technical training, and those who occupy themselves there with music, and other recognized factors in the daily life of the community. No longer are they to be looked upon as wicked, or at least idle, pastimes, but as educators—educators in much as a school is an institution, and the teacher and the actor may be looked upon as educators. Hence it was, supposed that I was given a place among educators, and I am proud to have been considered worthy of the distinguished honor which our college has conferred upon me.

I replied to President Sharpless's letter in that spirit, and suggested that at commencement in June I would like to sing a few words to the audience, and that if there was no objection I would also sing. There was no objection. Indeed, with the courtesy which always is present there came a change over the spirit of the dreams of those who guided the destinies of Haverford. Before my graduation the beginnings of a glee club became manifest. It has been said that my influence set these movements going, and it may be true. But I am really indeed to find that now music is encouraged, and to know that it should pervade every home, for it has been sung by poets and by prophets as an alleviator of grief, the bringer of joy, and largely by means of music and song.

I would suggest that, as time goes on, the drama be not encouraged, that as a matter of fact, is what our Quakers did, with the courtesy which always is present there. I remember the gist of my remarks was something like this:

In this connection, I am reminded of a story that is told upon myself. When I was in the business house of my uncle, David Schubert, in the early '80s, I was heard humming to myself as I walked two men in the street. Years afterward, when I was singing in grand opera, the younger man, a friend of mine, said, "Doh! Friend, look after me." Well, I told him he'd never come to an end, because he's always fooling around after cause he's always fooling around after music." I agree with the aged Friend so far as fooling around with anything is concerned. No one should "fool around" with music; on the contrary, according to my music; on the contrary, according to my generation, and those of the former generation who still remain upon its governing board, had lived to see the time, not contemplated by the founders of our railroad, where the ticket seller and his alumnus, when music was taught in the drama and those who occupied themselves there with music, and other recognized factors in the daily life of the community. No longer are they to be looked upon as wicked, or at least idle, pastimes, but as educators—educators in much as a school is an institution, and the teacher and the actor may be looked upon as educators. Hence it was, supposed that I was given a place among educators, and I am proud to have been considered worthy of the distinguished honor which our college has conferred upon me.

I replied to President Sharpless's letter in that spirit, and suggested that at commencement in June I would like to sing a few words to the audience, and that if there was no objection I would also sing. There was no objection. Indeed, with the courtesy which always is present there came a change over the spirit of the dreams of those who guided the destinies of Haverford. Before my graduation the beginnings of a glee club became manifest. It has been said that my influence set these movements going, and it may be true. But I am really indeed to find that now music is encouraged, and to know that it should pervade every home, for it has been sung by poets and by prophets as an alleviator of grief, the bringer of joy, and largely by means of music and song.

I also call to the attention of any who may still have a lingering doubt as to the dignity of music and the drama, and those who disapprove of them, that the professors and who ministrants, and those who are workers in other fields, that as I ended by saying on last commencement, in the pulpit and many notable preachers in the pulpit and many notable men and women upon the stage. We cannot longer think that any one of these is in itself "common or unclean." That is great shame. The Apostle saw in his vision being let down by the four corners, filled not only with footmen, but the body but with opportunities for the mind, and to and do afford the were

solace for the waking hours of toil, twin sister to the balm of sleep.

I desire to call the attention of everyone, particularly the members of the Society of Friends, and other religious bodies, that there is nothing wrong about any occupation in itself, provided that it rests with the individual to make himself a shining example and to enable by his attitude toward it, everything that he may lay his hands upon. As saith the poet, "To make this world a heaven through his harmony and largeness of means of music and song.

Wacoans to Sing at Tyler.

Heck of the voice department at Baylor university, will go to Tyler next Thursday, October 7, to join two local vocalists of that city in a musical program at the East Texas Fair. Among the numbers to be offered are "The Land Sights," by Grieg, "The Rosary," by Nevin, and a medley of southern songs.

Several matters are to be presented which need the personal expression from each member. The most important is, to decide date and tentative program for entertaining the State Alumnae association. Other matters of vital interest will be introduced by Miss Beer.

MR. AND MRS. BLANCHARD ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Blanchard are announcing the coming marriage of their young daughter, Miss Nell Blanchard, to Walter Early. The date lies within October, but is not yet definite. The ceremony will take place in the bride's home, and will be quite private. It is none the less an event of interest to life-long friends of the young bride, and of the groom, whose long service with Sanger Brothers has been recognized. Residence will continue on North Sixth street.

What They Are Doing in Various Phases of Their Work in Texas

Reported Weekly in The Waco Morning News by Miss Kate Friend, Editor, 525 Terrace Row, Waco, Texas.

OFFICIAL LETTER COMES FROM STATE PRESIDENT

Anticipating resumption of club activity with each day within the next two weeks, Mrs. Henry Fall, president of the State Federation, sends the following:

Houston, Texas, Oct. 3, 1915.

Dear Friends of the Federation:

Only one month ahead of us before our Brownwood convention. Our efficient chairman of program, Mrs. C. W. Connery, of Fort Worth, has arranged for speakers and has completed all work on the program, which will be published within a few days. Please study these subjects given for your consideration, and be prepared to enter into intelligent discussions, so that you may prove "worthy of your seat, your badge and your opportunity." Some delegates will go into the convention for the first time, timid and shrinking, but recall the lines of our beloved departed Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, made at the St. Louis biennial:

"You have failed and fallen—well, what if you have? Get up with a smile on your face; it's nothing against you to fall down flat. But to stay there—that's the disgrace."

All reports must be condensed and typewritten, since they contain work done by this administration, and will be passed on as reference to those who are to follow. From these reports will be gathered data for the club annual. It is important to have all work clearly stated and well defined. Credential cards will be mailed the first of October to each club president. Please elect your delegate early.

Officers and chairmen of committees wishing to make announcements through their departments will write to the press chairman, Miss Decca Lamar West, Waco.

The constitution of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs states that no officer shall exceed herself. This being election year, when we cast about for material for the incoming administration, we will do well to recall the words of our national president:

"Let us consider loyalty to our ideals in the selection of our officers. If you were to ask me the chief requisite for a woman who is to be placed in a position of trust in the club world, I should毫不犹豫 say she must first of all be a true gentlewoman.

It matters not what may be her intellect, what her power for organization—if she is lacking in the fundamental laws of breeding, if she is not a woman to bring the best results to an organization whose great silent majority is composed of home-making, God-fearing, sweet natured and humanely loving women, what can this woman bring to the organization? Who can best fill the position at this hour? These should be the questions we should put to our conscience, and answer with our ballots."

The chairman of transportation, Mrs. J. T. Thomas of Honey Grove, has arranged for rates to the convention with the various railroads in the state, including the short lines, giving delegates who live in small and remote places the advantage of these rates.

For any information regarding the convention, write to the following chairmen, who compose the local board:

The committee, picked from Brownwood's best, assures me every delegate shall have a "front seat."

Mr. Frederick S. Abney, chairman of the board.

Mrs. G. B. Howard, secretary.

Mrs. A. H. Bell, treasurer.

Mrs. J. W. Shepard, chairman entertainment.

Mrs. R. E. Rogers, chairman transportation.

Mrs. Harry Knox, chairman delegates' suites.

Miss Leslie Rice, chairman pages.

Miss W. R. Roberts, chairman music.

Miss Bertie Camp, chairman meetings.

Mrs. H. F. Mayes, chairman finance.

Mrs. C. Y. Early, chairman decorations.

Mrs. W. H. Talbot, chairman hotels.

Mrs. J. A. Walker, chairman badges.

Mrs. B. J. Miller, chairman convention hall.

Mrs. J. W. Taber, chairman information.

Mrs. James C. White, chairman press.

Mrs. L. E. Dublin, chairman printing.

I wish to thank the following clubs for yearbooks: Pierian club, Lampasas; El Progresso club, Uvalde; the Woman's Reading club, Navasota; Al-

trurian club, Snyder; Pathfinders, Austin; the Comanche Study club, Comanche; New Century club, Elgin; Standard club, Greenville.

Very sincerely,

MRS. HENRY B. FALL.

President Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

STATE ENDOWMENT FUND URGED BY MISS WEST

In furnishing her budget of state club news, Miss Decca Lamar West includes the following:

"Not only club women, but all the people of Texas interested in education, philanthropy, civic betterment, or any other good things for which the State federation stands, should know of the endowment fund. It has been talked so much to the clubs that we forget that outsiders know little or nothing about it. Mrs. Buchanan, the faithful chairman, issues a statement and makes an appeal which is given. Will you not respond to her call? The fund is absolutely necessary for the furtherance of federation work. Ask your friends who are not in clubs to lend a hand. They will not refuse when they know the good that will be accomplished, that has already come to pass through the generosity and hard work of the club women."

MRS. R. E. BUCHANAN MAKES HER APPEAL

Fort Worth, Sept. 20.

Dear Federation Friends:

The state endowment committee wishes the 16,000 Federation club women of Texas to have a brief statement of facts regarding the endowment fund.

Mrs. Ell Hertzberg is chairman of the board of directors for managing and vesting the endowment fund. She is known throughout San Francisco this summer in the interests of Texas. She notified us that Attorney Harry Hertzberg would do all in his power to get a safe loan. On July 16, Mr. M. Hertzberg had collected on endowment on July 16 he had this loaned at 8 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, on the best of security. This was our endowment fund on July 16, without drawing interest from the time the first contribution was collected, thanks to the kindness of Mr. Hertzberg, whom I hope every club woman will thank, as he gave us his service without money and without price.

Mr. Hertzberg is ready to help us place another thousand dollars as soon as we have it collected. It is the earnest wish of dear friends, of our hard working presidents, as well as the endowment committee, to have another thousand dollars loaned out by October 25. We want to tell the splendid good women who had faith in the endowment fund that helped—those who have—not—that we have $6000.00 8 per cent interest before the meeting in Brownwood.

This important work undertaken by the Federation was presented for the first time of a state club conference at the convention at Fort Worth Christ less than two years ago.

The plan of raising a fund for carrying on the increasing work of the Federation was simply to ask each club to contribute a sum of money and the endowment fund, from which you are to receive such benefits, will you not send it at once to your district chairman or to the state chairman? We urge all of those who pledged this fund at the district meeting in the spring to send in the amount pledged at once that we may complete a $5000.00 loan before our state meeting.

The next thing urged, in which our presidents especially joins the endowment committee, is: Will you not help to get the entire pro rata of your district pledged before the meeting in Brownwood?

It is the wish of the chairman not to have to ask for more money at the next state meeting. It is not a pleasant task—have you ever tried it?—to our state—wishes to be able to announce in Brownwood that we have a hard-working presi- dent and worried program of interest we could have use of the endowment fund to help to give us a great program at Brownwood, that touch of a world outside of our own, which means bringing in more of the big speakers.

This is the present time, future presi- dent to have a permanent fund to meet the increasing demands of the state work. If you have given your pro rata, and even more, can you not give for your delinquent sister, one not so blessed as you? Please do this at once so this work may be completed with the soonest possible date.

We beg you to heed the two urgent require- ments of this meeting, to help us to be close of this administration. "Bred in the Bone."

The first sub-title in the new Mutual master picture, "Bred in the Bone," reads: "Nay, my Mercy; they are naughty play actresses. Thee and me must not look at them." The stalwart Quaker lad took the maid's hand in his and led her under the trees in the shadow. They had chanced upon an actress in a troupe playing in the village opera house, but as the lad led the little Quakeress away, it was with unwilling feet that she went. It seemed that a new land had opened up to her.

To the above, the modern movie fan may sit comfortably in his seat and ponder, "so far, so good." Scenes seventeen to twenty in the reel four of "Bred in the Bone," the attraction at the Hippodrome Monday and Tuesday, shows how the leading man of the "Fly by Night" theatrical company proposed to Mercy and was refused. An hour later he saw the manager of the troupe follow Mercy from the theatre. The manager hurried to his rooms, strode in, turned the key in the door and put it in his pocket. The manager caught her wrists; she tried to free herself and as she struggled, the door was beaten in, a shot rang out through the room, the face of the leading man appeared through the broken door, the two men faced each other, then the manager sank to the floor dead.

Between scene one of reel one and the last scene in reel four, there is enough human interest in "Bred in the Bone" to fascinate the oldest movie fan.

Dorothy Gish plays Mercy, the country girl, who became an actress. William Hinckley plays her Quaker sweetheart, and W. E. Lawrence, leading man of "The Fly by Night" company. George Gueriner appears as the manager of the troupe.

"The Circular Staircase."

The universal interest created in "The Circular Staircase," the Selig Red Seal play in five parts, filmed from the adventure story written by Mary Roberts Reinhardt, as shown at the Hippodrome Wednesday and Thursday, can be summed up in the one word, "mystery."

It is well that an All-wise Providence has forbidden us the power to peer into the future. Otherwise Aunt Ray Innes would never have had the fortitude to withstand the ordeal of "The Circular Staircase." Had this extraordinary woman even imagined what was to occur when she leased "Sunnyside," the summer home owned by Bunker Paul Armstrong, she should have severed her strong right arm before she would have taken her beloved nephew and niece, Harry and Gertrude, into its forbidding confines.

There was a shot in the night; a visit to a long graveyard; a brave woman's battle with a desperate villain in a secret room, and two dead bodies laid huddled in horrid grotesqueness in the lurking shadows at the foot of the circular staircase, before the tangled threads of destiny, woven by the fates, were finally unraveled.

Eugene Besserer, Stella Raseto and Guy Oliver are the principal players. The staging is adequate. The feature was directed by Edward J. LeSaint.

"Sin."

Writing in the Chicago Herald, Miss Louella Parsons, the celebrated critic, delves into an analysis of Theda Bara, the wonderful French actress who comes to the Hippodrome Friday and Saturday in the latest William Fox photoplay supreme, "Sin," which was written and produced by Herbert Brenon.

"Her hair is like the serpent locks of Medusa, her eyes have the cruel cunning of Lucretia Borgia, till now held up as the world's wickedest

PROMISES FULFILLED
BY TRIANGLE FILMSKNICKERBOCKER THEATRE IN NEW YORK OPEN FOR MOVING
PICTURES AT $2 A SEAT.Douglas Fairbanks Stars in Griffith Production of "The Lamb."

New York, Oct. 2.—The two-dollar scale of prices for a motion picture program is at last a reality. It was introduced to a waiting world on Thursday night at the Knickerbocker theatre by the Triangle Film Corporation.

In the near future playhouses in other cities will be occupied by the Griffith, Ince and Sennett pictures, but it is the opening of the Knickerbocker that counts as a great event. This is the opening that the entire motion picture world and thousands upon thousands of the general public have waited for, because it means the first real test of high class pictures at regular theatre prices.

The test has come and it has been passed. From every indication the two-dollar scale of prices for pictures will be the regular thing for certain houses in the larger cities.

The Knickerbocker, with its prestige as one of New York's fine old playhouses, was a fortunate choice for the Triangle Film Corporation. It has prestige and it has a following. The screen itself has been improved by new decorations which are chiefly in soft tones of gray with here and there designs in red and green, which are the Triangle colors. New and pretty ushers have been provided in picture esque costumes. A large projection booth of concrete has been installed at the rear of the orchestra, and the front of the balcony has been converted into eleven boxes which bring the price, by the way, of $3 a seat. These are for those not satisfied with the regular $2 seats, desire exclusiveness in the "diamond horseshoe" of motion picturedom. A few rows in the front of the orchestra have been taken out to allow for musicians under the direction of William Furst, and the screen has been set back on the stage, with the base about two feet above the stage level, so that all seats afford a good view.

This is the setting in which the Triangle films are presented. Like the medium of art in art, it is most satisfactory when it presents the matter clearly without a distraction, and that is just what the changes in the Knickerbocker have done. All lines tend toward the screen. In comfort, the audience thinks only of the pictures on the screen.

Fourteen Reels Provided.

The pictures themselves make the program of the Triangle a success. Produced by the great triumvirate, Douglas, W. Griffith, Thomas H. Ince and Mack Sennett, and presenting in each instance a famous star supported by a competent cast, they afford real entertainment and lots of it. Fourteen reels of motion pictures de luxe, that is the explanation of the welcome accorded to the Triangle program on Thursday night, that is the promise of a bright future for the corporation.

Just what element in the program counts most for entertainment is a matter of opinion, but the audience on Thursday night and the reviews in the daily papers next morning indicated that the favorite in the first list was Douglas Fairbanks in "The Lamb." The second in the list of three, it had the logical position for a climax, and it furnished that climax with a capital "C."

Triumph of Fairbanks.

"The Lamb" is a great picture, and Douglas Fairbanks is a real motion picture star. For years Mr. Fairbanks appeared on the legitimate stage as a featured player, and for other years as a star, popular and hardworking, but he always seemed just to miss the solid success he deserved. This was largely because of inadequate material.

At the Hippodrome.

MISS EUGENIE BESSERER
SELIK STARIN "THE CIRCULAR STAIRCASE," HIPPODROME WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY.

But now Douglas Fairbanks has come into his own. Under supervision of Mr. Griffith and with a capital story, he has made his entrance on the screen and his reception is nothing short of a sensation. As most of the critics on the daily papers remarked, it was no wonder that Mr. Griffith when he saw "The Lamb" completed, went right out and signed Mr. Fairbanks for three years. The young star seems to live on the screen, and he fairly talks. His triumph for it is nothing less, is due to fine acting, a suitable medium for his personality, and the direction of W. C. Cabanne, under the eye of Mr. Griffith.

Triangle pictures will be shown in Texas early in November in every city where sufficient patronage can be secured to maintain the Triangle standard of presentation, where the highest ideals of the motion picture art may be seen in suitable settings and to proper advantage. A series of twelve reels, which opened at the Knickerbocker theatre, and which will be shown in Texas probably as two programs run on different days, consist of a five reel subject produced by Thomas H. Ince, entitled "The Iron Strain," featuring Dustin Farnum; a five reel subject by D. W. Griffith entitled "The Lamb," featuring Douglas Fairbanks, and a four reel comedy produced by Mack Sennett, entitled "My Valet," featuring Raymond Hitchcock, Mack Sennett, Mable Normand and Owen Moore.

A musical director, William Furst, is in charge of all musical plots for Triangle productions, and special music will be played accompanying the pictures, either by orchestra of seven pieces or more, or an organ.

Luling Man Arrested.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 2.—Rupert Beatty, a business man of Luling, is under arrest there in connection with the killing of "Work" Stewart, a negro. Several weeks ago Steve's boy was sent to jail for the theft of Beatty's corn. Beatty alleges self-defense, saying Stewart threatened and attacked him.

Second Presbyterian Church.

The pastor, Rev. J. J. Grier, wants to see all members and friends of the church at both services today. Men and women are urged to come to the Bible class at 10 o'clock, conducted by the pastor.

The sermon at night will be to young people. All young people invited.

There was tumult in the city.
In the quaint old Quaker town,
And the streets were filled with people
Pacing restlessly up and down—
People gathering at corners,
Where they whispered each to each,
And the sweat stood on their temples
With the earnestness of speech.

As the bleak Atlantic currents

Lash the wild Newfoundland shore,

So they beat against the State House,

So they surged against the door;

And the mingling of their voices

Made a harmony profound,

Till the quiet street of Chestnut

Was all turbulent with sound.

"Will they do it?" "Dare they do it?"

"Who is speaking?" "What's the news?"

"What of Adams?" "What of Sherman?"

"Oh, God grant they won't refuse!"

"Make some way there!" "Let us nearer!"

"I am a stoning!" "Stifle them!"

When a nation's life is at hazard,

We've no time to think of men!

"So they beat against the portal,

Man and woman, maid and child;

And the July sun in heaven

On the scene looked down and smiled.

The same sun that saw the Spartan

Shed his patriot blood in vain,

Now behold the soul of freedom,

All unconquer'd, rise again.

"See! See!" The dense crowd quivers

Through all its lengthly line,

As the boy beside the portal

Looks forth to give the sign!

With his little hands uplifted,

Breezes dallying with his hair,

Hark! with deep, clear intonation,

Breaks his young voice in the air.

"Hushed the people's swelling murmur,

List the boy's exultant cry!

"Ring!" he shouts. "Ring! Grandpa.

Ring, oh ring for Liberty!"

Quickly at the given signal

The bell-man lifts his hand,

Forth he sends the good news, making

Iron music through the land.

"How they shouted! What rejoicing!

How the old bell shook the air,

Till the clang of freedom filled

The calm gilding belfry!

How the bonfires and the torches

Lighted up the night's repose,

From the flames, like faded Phoe-

ABLE FARMERS TO GATHER

Agriculture, Stock Raising, Draining and Poultry Raising to Be Discussed at San Francisco.

Beginning this month the greatest American authorities on agriculture, stock raising and dairying will be in convention at San Francisco for the interchange of ideas. These meetings are open to the general public and every farmer, dairy man or breeder of livestock is especially welcome.

It is impossible to overestimate the educational value of these meetings. The papers which will be read will bandy the very latest and newest discoveries and most successful practices in practically every branch of the farming and cattle raising industries. The general discussions following the reading of papers are in the highest degree instructive and interesting.

Even though the Panama-Pacific International exposition had done nothing more than to bring together these conventions, its place in history as an educational influence would be secure.

Here the ablest and most successful men in the various branches will give to their audience the best they have to offer. An attentive listener could help but profit by this interchange of ideas and information.

The complete list of conventions to be held during farmers' month and in November is as follows:

October 4, American Shire Horse Association.

October 16, California Conference of Boys and Girls' Agriculture clubs.

October 18, Society of American Forsters.

Marshall, Texas, Oct. 2.—Illness of one of the juror's children caused a recess to Monday morning today after a jury had been seated since yesterday in the case of Mrs. John Rogers against Fidelity and Casualty Insurance company.

Mrs. Rogers, whose husband was killed in a hotel duel last February in which Evangelist Black lost his life, alleges he was accidentally shot and for that reason asks for the full amount of the policy.

LINE TO BEAUMONT MAY BE CONSIDERED AROUSING INTEREST

PRESIDENT NAMAN OF Y. M. B. L. WRITES TO NORMANGEE FOR DATA ON INTERURBAN.

WOULD GIVE EASTERN OUTLET LADIES DESERVE GREAT PRAISE

Several Important Projects to Be Taken Up by Directors Tuesday Night.

GORGEOUS ENTERTAINMENT EXPECTED TO DRAW BIG CROWDS ON OPENING DAY.

Waco and McLennan County Events to be Recounted at Cotton Palace.

The effort to promote an air-line interurban connecting Waco with Beaumont and passing through Normangee may be actively taken up by the Young Men's Business League as a result of a letter of inquiry addressed yesterday by President Naman of the league to A. R. Crawford of Normangee, one of the principals of the company which is promoting the line. The want of a direct rail connection with Beaumont has been long felt by Waco merchants, who have had various propositions presented to them with this end in view.

The most promising to date has been the proposal to extend the Katy lines east from here to connect at Weldon with the Beaumont and Great Northern, a Katy property. One of the conditions on which the recent state litigation against the Katy was settled was that $6,000,000 would be spent at once by the road on extensions and improvements. Attorney General Looney has intimated that he will insist upon these extensions being made, and merchants have been hopeful that the connection with Beaumont will be the first made.

The proposed Waco-Normangee Beaumont air-line would pass through Madisonville, Huntsville and Cold Springs, three county seat towns now not adequately supplied with railroad facilities, and would give these communities an outlet as well as furnish Waco with new and desirable trade territory.

A meeting was recently held in Normangee, at which the proposition was endorsed unanimously and favorably by Mr. Crawford. Information obtained in answer to President Naman's inquiry will probably be ready for presentation to the directors of the Y. M. B. L. at their meeting Tuesday night.

Several important projects are under consideration by the Y. M. B. L. and each of these will receive attention Tuesday night. The directors will also hear reports of what the regular standing committees are doing and a report of the trip to Temple Monday.

English Goes to Ardmore.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Oct. 2.—State Fire Marshal S. W. English, member of the state fire insurance commission, left today for Ardmore, Okla., where he will make a thorough inspection into the cause of the recent gasoline explosion which caused such disaster at that place. The purpose of this investigation is to take necessary steps to obviate such a calamity in Texas.

When Mrs. J. M. Hale hit upon the scheme of presenting an historical pageant on the afternoon of the opening day of the Cotton Palace, Saturday, November 6, she undoubtedly planned a bigger and more interesting form of entertainment than she at first imagined. Everybody in Waco, from lisping little babies to snowy-haired old men and women, are asking all sorts of questions about the pageant. It is a topic of discussion in many homes in Waco, from the time the kiddies scamper home from school until the arrival of the sand man. After rushing through their prayers, they go to bed and dream the most fairy-like dreams about the great pageant. In the morning they awake their fond parents with a fresh volley of questions about the pageant.

It is not at all surprising that the entire populace is interested in this spectacular event. It is the first time in the history of Central Texas that anything so stupendous and far-reaching has ever been undertaken.

Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Wilkes and the other ladies on the Cotton Palace committee are deserving of unstinted praise and commendation for their originality of thought and ability in execution. They are planners and doers.

More than 500 children are being trained for various roles in this pageant. To depict the important historical events in the history of Waco and McLennan county from the days of the first red man paddled his canoe up the sparkling Brazos, down to the present days of city charter revision, pennant winning and Cotton Palace expositions is no small task. It requires brains and a good quality and quantity of imagination to do that. But it is being done.

Therefore the first day of the Cotton Palace has not amounted to very much. The crowds waited until that night. That will not be the case this year. The people are becoming interested over the historical pageant. They will be there long before the performances. That will be necessary in order to get a seat. It is feared from present indications, it will be necessary to turn hundreds of people away. Extra efforts, however, will be made to comfortably seat the vast audience.

Every newspaper within a radius of 100 miles of Waco has been carrying stories about the pageant for the past six weeks. This will be continued until the opening day. This plus unusual publicity in the smaller towns is arousing much interest, and will result in a large attendance outside of Waco.

Holt Massey, who has had many years of experience in that line of endeavor, is assisting Mrs. Hale and the other members of the committee in the rehearsals. He will probably enact one of the leading roles. Rehearsals by the entire company will be commenced at an early date. This will be necessary in order to make it possible to present the pageant in a highly creditable manner.

The details of the various episodes will be presented in the press each Sunday between now and the opening of the Cotton Palace.

Use of Concrete on Farm to Be Shown at the State Fair

Dallas, Oct. 2.—The usefulness of concrete on the farm will be demonstrated in a splendid exhibit in the Made-in-Texas department of the State fair of Texas, which opens Saturday, Oct. 16, and continues sixteen days. This exhibit, educational in the extreme, has been prepared on the direction of the concrete division bureau, an organization formed for the express purpose of educating the farmers of the Southwest in the usefulness of concrete, farm houses, silos, barns, driveways, troughs, swine pens, cattle pens, etc. L. S. Bruner, head of the bureau, is now having the models constructed.

There will be six models in all—a concrete silo, a concrete dipping vat, section of a concrete barn floor, a section of a concrete milk house, a concrete drinking trough and concrete fence posts.

A portion of each model will be complete and the remainder will show the forms—giving an idea as to the method of construction. Thus the concrete silo will show the finished and unfinished portions, the forms, reinforcing, etc., demonstrating how such structures are properly built.

Besides there will be a cabinet of 8x10 colored transparencies—twenty in all—showing the manifold uses of concrete, road building, bridges, farm buildings, etc. Then there will be another panel showing the different methods of surface finishing, in which concrete is used. Twelve different styles of finish in all will be shown.

Exports from the Bureau will be at the exhibit to explain to those interested about the use of concrete in various structural work and how it is done.

The Texas department of agriculture will have an exhibit at the fair that will be instructive in the extreme, as it will deal with Texas farm products, destructive and useful animals, birds and insects, cotton and its by-products, Texas woods and girls' club work and home economics.

Prof. Ernest E. Scholl, an entomologist of note, will be in charge of this exhibit. He recently visited the Panama-Pacific exposition where he made a study of the agricultural features, several of which will be given prominence in the State fair exhibit.

A great sign, made of Texas grains, will greet the visitor on his arrival at the exhibit. In the center of the sign will be the Lone Star of Texas and the center of the star a farm scene.

The sky and clouds above the farm, the silo, the barn, farm animals, house, everything, in fact, will be portrayed through the medium of Texas grains.

The best news for the many hundreds of regular patrons of the popular Rex theatre is contained in the headline above, to the effect that in future all Paramounts will first be shown at the Rex before being exhibited at any other Waco theatre. John Mason, who made his screen debut in "Jim the Penman," and Hazel Dawn, who recently abandoned the stage to appear exclusively for the Famous Players, in the Paramount program, are jointly presented by that company in their latest production, "The Fatal Card," a five-part photo-adaptation of C. Haddon Chambers' noted stage play of that name. It will be shown at the Rex Monday and Tuesday, its initial showing in Waco.

The great power, the smoothness of the motor in the 1916 Studebaker Four with the car's roadability have contributed toward making it the sensation of the year. Another cause for satisfaction found by owners of the new four is its flexibility for a four cylinder motor, permitting, as it does, driving for miles over hills and through heavy country roads, or throttling down to walking speed and picking up again on city streets, without shifting gears. Under all circumstances and conditions the car goes about its business like the perfect machine it was designed and has proven to be.

The performance of the new Studebaker Four has been such that it might be easily mistaken for a car with a greater number of cylinders. Harry W. Blevins of Toledo, who recently made a trip from that city to Cincinnati, averaging 6½ miles to the gallon on gasoline, says the four simply picks up on the hardest grades without changing from high gear, and while carrying a full load of seven passengers.

Hill climbing tests made in various sections have shown the new four equal to every requirement.

EIGHT MILE LIMIT IN FORCE AT MARLIN

CITY ORDINANCE PERMITTING SPEED OF TWELVE MILES IS INVALID.

Ruling of Mayor in City Court Is That City Law Is Not Binding.

Special to the Morning News.

Marlin, Tex., Oct. 2.—Marlin auto drivers will now be compelled to slow down to the state limit of eight miles within city limits, as the city ordinance permitting a speed of twelve miles has been declared invalid on account of a technicality in which the fine assessed by the city court conflicts with that stated in the state statutes. The matter was decided by a ruling of Mayor Bounds in the city court in a case where a local attorney defending a young man charged with speeding attacked the validity of the ordinance. This did not cause the matter to be dropped, however, as a charge was immediately filed against the young man under the provisions of the state statutes.

Overland Bowling League's Fifth Year

The Overland Bowling league, which is said to be the largest organization of its kind in the United States, will celebrate the opening of its fifth season on Monday night, Oct. 4, at the factory alleys of the Willys-Overland company. Elaborate arrangements have been made to give the automobile industry a big send-off and the officials anticipate a record breaking attendance. The fifty-piece Overland concert band and the Overland Glee club will be on hand to entertain their fellow workers with music and song.

The membership of the league is open to employees of the Willys-Overland company only. Each department of the factory is represented by a team composed of the five best bowlers in the department. Some of the departments have as many as three teams, in addition to those departments where there are fully 500 active members who use the alleys regularly throughout the winter. As the ranking men of the entire number are chosen to represent the company in the state and national tournaments, competition for places is exceedingly keen.

Last year the Overland team demonstrated its ability by capturing the Ohio state championship. Previous to that time they had met and defeated some of the strongest bowling organizations in the country.

Those who have seen the bowling game say that it is typical of Mr. Willys in that he fitted it up with the best equipment money could buy. The automatic machines for setting up pins and the perfect lighting facilities are said to be the last word in bowling circles.

During tournament play the club members assess themselves for entrance games, and the aggregate sum is used for the prize list, which is bigger than that of any other league in the United States. Aside from the tournament games, the members are privileged to use the alleys without expense.

Bowling is but one of the branches of sport that flourishes at the Toledo plant. Baseball, football, basketball and rifle teams all have their following among the 10,000 employees of the company. Mr. Willys himself is an athletic enthusiast, which probably accounts for the deep interest he takes in the various factory teams.

First Annual Soiree
Is Given at Baylor

The first annual Soiree was given at Baylor last night from 8 to 10. Mr. and Mrs. Claypool with the young ladies of the university were at home to the students and faculty in a joyous reception given for the purpose of getting acquainted. Among those in the receiving line were Miss Connel, Mesdames Hall, Balenti and McElhanon and Messrs. Rider, Hall, Balenti and McElhanon.

There was an enormous crowd there and the socializing of receptions was the result. The members of the Young Women's Christian Association assisted by the members of the Young Men's Association were the ones who had the affair in charge and it was a decided success.

One of the novelties of the evening was the fact that there was an extra couple of young ladies acting as part of the introductory committee. They were Misses Ozzelle Gresham and Louis Irwin. They said that no one couple had too much of a good time and that all were equally divided as to time and new acquaintances. With their joyful laughs and the merry spirit of the occasion they were the most popular couple on the floor, serving in the capacity of official members of the committee.

MOTHERS AND SONS BANQUET AT Y.M.C.A.

FATHERS SERVE MEALS WHILE

TOASTS AND MUSIC ON PROGRAM

Dan Kelly Pays Eloquent Tribute to
"Our Mothers' Love," Which Is Highly Praised.

Unique in every particular, the Mother and Son banquet, held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday and Saturday nights, proved successes from every standpoint. While the mothers and sons sat around the banquet board, the "Dads" served the meal, which the participants voted very appetizing.

Toasts to "Our Mothers" were given by Hammon and Dan Kelly, and to "Our Sons" by Mrs. W. C. Hammon and Mrs. S. Owen. One of the attractive features was music by Mrs. D. J. Byars and Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Bouton.

Dan Kelly's tribute to "Our Mothers' Love" drew many compliments from all who heard it. It was as follows:

"It is impossible for any man to make an appropriate tribute to you. But with the inspiration I receive from the nature of the subject and encouraged by the sentiments I feel, I shall try. How our hearts are thrilled by the very sound of the word 'Mother.' No matter how coarse, how harsh a voice may be, the effect is the same. And mother is such a sweet word. It is one of the three sweetest words in our language—mother, home and heaven. What association there is in them, we never think of a mother but what we think of home, and never of home without mother in it but what we think of heaven."

The report of the Young Men's Christian association for the week just closed shows that the men and boys of the association used the privileges 2,677 times.

Also shows that Drs. Crosthwait, Schenck, Roddy and Gage remained sixty-five men and boys in a thorough manner and made no charge, advising all laymen to consult their family physician about some defect discovered by them.

The report is given by days in order that those interested may know something of the detail work.

No School Apportionment.

Because of a lack of available funds, no school apportionment will be made this month by the state department of education for the benefit of the public schools, according to announcement made today.

bosom in a peaceful tranquility which only a mother can give.

"In conclusion I wish to repeat a story from an ancient book: One day, bright sunshiny day an angel stole out of heaven and came down to this old world and roamed field and forest, city and hamlet, and just as the sun went down he plumed his wings and said: 'Now my visit is out, and I must go back to the world of light, but before I go I must gather some mementoes of my visit here.' And he looked into a beautiful flower garden and said: 'Oh, how fragrant these flowers are, and he plucked the prettiest thing I have seen; I will carry that, too.' Then he looked just beyond the cradle and there was a mother's love pouring out like the gush of a river, toward the cradle and the baby, and he said: 'Oh, that is the prettiest thing I have seen; I will carry that, too.' With the treasures he winged his way to the pearly gates and stopped just outside and said, 'Before I go in I will examine my mementoes,' and as he looked at the flowers they had withered; at the baby's smile, it had faded, but the mother's love was there in all its pristine beauty and fragrance. He picked it up and said, 'Here is the only thing I found on earth that would keep its fragrance all the way to heaven—a mother's love.'

MISSOURI WINS GOOD GAME.

By the Associated Press.
Columbia, Mo., Oct. 2.—Missouri university and Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical in the opening game of the football season today 13 to 6. Missouri relied on line plunges through the tackles to win.

The Oklahoma team made a touch down in the first quarter when Scott plowed across the goal line. When he missed goal, Missouri scored its first touchdown in the third quarter, when Arthur Klein, the diminutive quarter, had passed the ball to Speelman, who passed carried it across the line. Klein missed the goal.

Neither side scored in the third quarter, but in the last period Missouri made a smashing attack through the Oklahoma line and McAnaw plunged through for a touchdown. Clay kicked goal.

DESPITE HOT WEATHER BOTH TEAMS PLAY SNAPPY FOOTBALL.

Littlefield's Forward Passes Are Intercepted Often—Christians Fight Hard.

Special to the Morning News.

Austin, Oct. 2.—T. C. U. was outclassed in every department of the game by the Texas Longhorns in the first game of the season on Clark Field, and this afternoon Christians was winning by the large score of 72 to 6.

Notwithstanding the unusually hot weather, the game was snappy, and the Christians fought bravely to the last, though they never became dangerous and the Longhorns gained at will through their lines and on end runs.

Two touchdowns were made on long forward passes, Littlefield, one to Turner, and one to Elaine. The most interesting feature of the game was the success with which the Christians attempted Littlefield's pass. Out of 19 attempts, only 5 were successful. On the other hand, the Christians were totally unable to pierce the Longhorn line for gains, five plunges gaining them a total of 14 yards.

Allenberry substituted frequently. Bob Simmons and Trabue alternated at quarterback, Blaine and Turner at end, and Simpson, Holland, Ogden, Montgomery and Keeler were the other T. C. U. men who got in the game.

Cox and McNamara played the best game for T. C. U.; Littlefield, Blaine and Walker for Texas. There were no features.

Baylor held it.

"We were as a farmer boy can whip a mule." Not once did the Brownsville team make its distance longer or around the field than the eleven succeeded in holding their opponents for downs, except on two occasions when experiments in passing were indulged in. Never was the Baylor goal any nearer than a dozen yards.

The heavy Baylor backs gained through the line almost at will; gained many yards in short end runs; were successful in all attempts to run and score—in short, they got around up as they pleased.

Then they fumbled, or tried a pass—either was disastrous.

On the other hand, Baylor succeeded with a pass while at least five attempts went wide. The coaches had depended to a great deal on the short pass, and when even this was the most conservative Baylor partisans expected at least 25 to 0.

BUY A SEASON PASS AND SEE IT ALL!

Texas Cotton Palace
November 6th to 21st

The Season Passes to the Texas Cotton Palace Will Go on Sale October 18th and There Will Be More of Them Purchased This Year Than Before.

There are sixteen days of the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition; every day is a feature day; the program that has been arranged is conceded to be the best program ever planned in the state of Texas. The printed program only presents the features. It would be impossible to attempt a description of the hundreds of exhibits that will be presented. You can spend from three to five days inspecting the Home Industry Building alone and learn something new every day about things that are manufactured in Waco. Another five days can be profitably spent in seeing the exhibits in the Main Exposition Building. And if you're interested in Dogs, you'll find a good two days can be spent at the Dog Show alone, and many will visit this building every day for the four that will be devoted to it. Then there will be the Poultry Show, where those interested in fine Poultry will find exhibits that will profitably take up much time. The Agricultural Building will contain exhibits that will be worthy of days and days of study, and this will also be true of the Livestock Show.

Cavallo's Forty Piece Band and Soloists and the Many Other Every Day Features of the Great Free Coliseum.

It may not be known to all, but it is nevertheless a fact that the Texas Cotton Palace is the only exposition of importance in the entire state that does not charge an extra admission to its Coliseum attractions. A season ticket to the Texas Cotton Palace affords you the privilege of listening to the famous Cavallo Band and Soloists for sixteen days and nights, and in addition there are many other features to be presented in this great Coliseum for which there will be no extra charge. The musical feature of the Texas Cotton Palace alone is worth many times the cost of a season ticket.

TELEPHONE BUILDING TO BE FIRE-PROOF

SAFETY AND COMFORT OF EMPLOYEES TAKEN CARE OF ACCORDING TO PLANS.

Inspector A. L. Garrett of State Labor Bureau Compliments Arrangements.

Notwithstanding the fact that the new building of the Texas Telephone company is to be of fireproof construction, the company is embracing various plans elaborate precautions against fire, and for the protection of its employees against harm from fire. The final plans for the building will be completed by Ross & Cason, the architects, next Wednesday, and show many up-to-date features in the way of fire protection, and for the convenience of the occupants of the building.

All the window casings and sash in the building are to be of steel, with the glass on the sides and rear of the building above the first floor of reinforced construction. Throughout the building, doors opening into corridors will be of steel, arranged so that they will lock only on the inside, and can at all times be opened from the outside into the halls. The fire escapes are of modern type, with large landings, and a very late type of landing, and the doors opening from each floor onto the escape landing are to be constructed so that a slight pressure on a bar across the door, on the inside, will instantly open it; this being placed low down on the door so that a person overcome by smoke or heat, falling against it, would cause it to open. Electric lights over the fire escapes, outside, will burn all night. Fire alarm bells and signals are to be placed in every room in the building occupied by employees.

As a convenience to employees, plans call for sanitary drinking fountains on every floor, conveniently situated, which will supply ice water from a sanitary tank in the basement. Sufficient clothes lockers are to be furnished for employees in all departments. The floors throughout the building will be of concrete, with appropriate floor covering for the various departments. The lobby and public rooms will have tiled floors and the counters and wainscoting in these rooms will be of marble. The woodwork of the office part of the building will be mahogany.

The illumination scheme for the interior of the building has been very carefully planned. The office part will be lighted with the semi-indirect system, while the operating rooms will have direct lighting with holophane reflectors. Special attention has been given to the placing of these lights, so that the result will be the best obtainable.

A complete kitchen and dining room for the company's operators, all under the care of an experienced matron, will furnish wholesome meals at cost to the female employees.

In the operating and rest rooms, the electric fans are so arranged that they will maintain a constant system of ventilation. To obtain this result a special type of wall fan is to be used, set on brackets, all facing in one direction, placed at the proper height to cool the air without causing a direct draft upon the occupants.

The plans for the new building is to be completed by Inspector A. L. Garrett of the state labor bureau, who made a thorough examination of them last week. Mr. Garrett, who is intensely interested in all matters pertaining to the comfort and welfare of the workers in any industry in the state, commented very favorably on the arrangements being provided by the telephone company for the convenience of its employees.

Immediately upon the completion

one set of the plans will be submitted to the state insurance commission,

to ascertain if any further arrangements for the prevention of fire

can be installed.

Excavating for the new building is nearing completion. The site, as has been before stated, is on North Ninth street, between Austin and Washington.

Actual construction is to be begun as soon as the necessary preliminaries can be completed.

Methodist Orphanage and Waco, I came to say just a thing or two about what the orphanage means to Waco, as I am sure a majority of the people of the city do not know. The first thing I want to mention is this: We have more than fifty children in the home from your city. Without this home what would the city have done with these orphans? In that respect Waco derived great benefit than any other town in Texas.

Again, since I have had charge of the orphanage we have spent in Waco about $2,000 each year. This money has gone into circulation in the city. Now let me say that Waco is not doing as much for the orphanage as it should do. I merely wanted the people of Waco to know these facts. All that the city has done has been greatly appreciated by us. If Waco would give us $10,000 we could finish our building.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York, Oct. 2.—The cotton market was less active today and fluctuations were irregular, with the close steady at 11.75c, no decline of 8 to 11 points.

There appeared to be some confusion as a result of relatively weak cables and the postponement of the government reports until Monday. Prices were barely steady at a decline of 9 to 19 points, and it appeared to be considerable scattering liquidation, but the offerings were readily taken around the opening prices.

December contracts, which sold at 11.90 on the call contract to 12.08 during the middle of the morning, while January rallied from 12.07 to 12.23c, or about the closing figures of last night, while the buying probably was encouraged by bullsish spot and trading advices and rumors that a cotton authority made the condition of the crop between 60 and 61 per cent. Fair weather was reported, and south following the storm, however, and prices eased off again after the morning under new realizations or liquidations, with December closing around 11.97c and January at 12.13, on some 10 points off from the best. It appeared from the small volume of business that scattering accounts had been pretty well evened up before the close last night in anticipation of the government reports scheduled for publication this morning, while the delay attracted the effect of the storm. Telegraphic facilities naturally created no fresh sentiment in the showing of either ginning or condition figures.

Receipts—58,000 bales; season 1,047,404; exports 16,385; season 647,059; port stocks 990,785.

have to be shipped from other countries to meet French requirements. It was further asserted that even this huge tonnage was inadequate if the German forces in France were expelled and the supplies in the French war zone were not saved for the civilians of that area. In this connection, however, the fact that freight rates on the Atlantic reached their highest point ever known exercised some what of a restraining influence on the bulls.

Corn weakened enough to touch the lowest prices seen for this season, but it remained almost stationary.

Higher prices in the hog market lifted provisions. There was no abatement in the export demand for food meats.

WHEAT

Chicago, Oct. 2—Official announcement of a big falling off in the volume of the French crop gave considerable strength to wheat prices, but the market closed steady 1 1/2@2c net higher than last night, with a slight change and provision for an advance of 7 1/2 to 15c.

No City Taxes Paid on First Two Days

Silence reigned in the office of City Tax Collector R. L. Stribling Friday and Saturday. Not a sound broke the stillness save the rustle of the pages of the delinquent tax ledger as one of the assistants calculated its mounting figures. Although yesterday and the day before it was legal and acceptable to pay city taxes there was no eager stream of customers at Mr. Stribling's windows. This was in sharp contrast to the county tax collector's office where several hundred dollars in taxes were received during the first two days of October.

"As a rule, city tax payers don't come in 'till they have to," said Mr. Stribling. "Many of our city tax payers are farmers who come in with cotton sell it, and figure they had just as well pay now as later. City people don't figure that way."

In buying one of these heaters at the above prices you will get your money's worth for every dollar spent.

Natural Gas is Not a Luxury

As some persons think.

At the price natural gas is sold in Waco, you are hurting your own interests if you do not use it.

From a cost standpoint alone, it is more economical than any other kind of available fuel.

If convenience, cleanliness and the many other advantages of heating with gas are considered, then there remains no question as to which fuel is the best.

Gas Grate Burners and Enclosed Heaters

Are desirable for heating large spaces where the heating device may be rigidly connected to the gas supply pipe.

We can furnish practically any type of gas grate burner or enclosed heater from our Waco stock.

Samples of these types of heaters may be seen in operation at our display room on Sixth street.

But remember that if you haven't the time to call, we will gladly send a representative with actual photographs.

Letters from the People

Woman's Right to Smoke.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 1.

The Waco Morning News.

last Sunday's edition of The

was found the following re-

able news item:

AN FROM MILFORD SMOKE-

ON STREETS.

the name of all that's pure and woman, where did you learn to cigarettes?" a city patrolman

said of a woman yesterday

leisurely smoking a cigar-

home is at Milford," she said.

in you had better catch the train to Milford," the officer rejoined,

can't smoke cigarettes on the streets of Waco as long as I am on force."

And the woman threw away her cigarette and agreed to go back to Milford.

The patrolman said this was the first time he ever saw a woman

smoking cigarettes and he hoped it will be the last.

If the reading public were disposed to do so, this piece of news could,

of course, pass unnoticed and without a thought as to whether it was worthy or worthless, but containing as it does the exceeding of authority and the violation of the right of an individual.

it is hardly fair that it should pass unquestioned.

If there is any law upon any statute book of the state or any city ordinance against a woman "leisurely smoking a cigarette" this writer would like to know it, and if there is such a law abridging the rights of woman, it should be repealed in all haste as a token of sincere apology for same. If "leisurely smoking a cigarette" on the part of a woman is sufficient misconduct to order her to leave town, what crime against the law and society we men and boys commit every minute of the day!

There could be no such thing as justifying cigarette smoking as applied to women and boys, and condemn a woman to banishment for the same offense. We can sympathize with the officer in the case. He was shocked; his reverential feeling for woman kind perhaps received a severe jolt, and there may be persons who at first thought will believe he did right, but indeed it was a grievous error, and one to be deplored. "Leisurely smoking a cigarette" and no other charge is too weak to think of and the ordering her away for such imaginary offense an infringement of right and a travesty on justice.

This writer is not a believer in cigarette smoking by any one, nor in any manner, and perhaps would dislike to see a woman engaged with a cigarette as much as the zealous officer, but he would not for any consideration forcibly interfere with her rights.

These thoughts are presented with feelings of sincere respect, and are chronicled only for the purpose and in the hope of shedding at least some little ray of light into the beclouded vision of some persons in regard not only to rights inalienable, but also as to rights equal.

Respectfully,
WILL BOLGER.

The following form of invitation is being sent to the out-of-town attendants of the court by the queen's chancellor:

"Waco, Texas.....

"To Miss.....

"Her Gracious Majesty, the queen of the Cotton Palace, bids me to extend to you a cordial invitation to attend her court ball to be held in Waco on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 11. In the event of your accepting this distinguished honor it will be Her Majesty's pleasure to confer on you a patent of nobility with the title.

"You will be expected to bring with you a maid of honor, a loyal knight to be your attendant and an esquire to attend your maid of honor. You will be invited to participate in all the festivities of this joyous occasion. Further details of this affair are appended.

"Hoping that I may be the bearer to Her Gracious Majesty of your acceptance of this honor, and that I may receive your acceptance at your earliest convenience, I have the honor to remain,

"Your Ladyship's most obedient servant,

"WILL BOLGER.

In order to insure uniformity of dress, the suggestions noted below have been communicated to the court attendants:

"For the information of visiting duchesses and their attendants at the queen's court:

"The visiting duchesses are expected to wear a white ball gown with a court train trailing a yard and a half on floor.

"Maids of honor to the visiting duchesses will wear a similar white ball gown with court train trailing one and a half yards on floor.

"The knight attendant upon the visiting duchess and the esquire attendant upon the maid of honor will wear the conventional evening dress of today.

"It will be necessary for the visitors to reach Waco not later than 8 a. m. on Thursday, Nov. 11. They are invited to participate in all the festivities incident to the queen's court.

"For any additional information as to court gowns, etc., write Mrs. A. W. Koch, The Kyle, Waco, Texas."

Those in charge of the queen's ball feel particularly gratified in being able to secure the services of such a capable and experienced man as Holt Massey to serve as chairman of the tableau features. In addition to serving

Saturday, Nov. 6th Opening Day

FOR THE

TEXAS COTTON PALACE

While every day at the Texas Cotton Palace from November 6th to 21st, inclusive, is a feature day, the management has made special arrangements to make Opening Day, November 6th, the greatest and most eventful opening day in the history of the exposition and an opening day that will outlast that of any other opening day of any exposition in the entire Southwest.

AT 10 A. M.—One of the most unique Cotton Parades ever staged will take place. It will typify the name of the South's most unique exposition. At its head will be Governor James E. Ferguson, driving a team of mules attached to a load of Texas Cotton. Then will come the farmers of this and other counties, each with a wagon load of King Cotton or its by-products. So unusual are the features of this parade that when presented to the great animated weekly moving picture news gathering firms of the country, they immediately decided to send special film men here to secure moving pictures of the parade.

THE CHILDREN'S PAGEANT FROM 2 TO 5 P. M.—Over five hundred children have been in training for weeks in connection with the Children's pageant on opening day at the Texas Cotton Palace. These hundreds of children, in a most attractive manner, will present the history for Waco from the time of the Indians to the present day. It will be a sight that will not only be most impressive, but one that will correctly portray the history of the Central City of Texas. Neither time nor money have been spared in an effort to make this the greatest pageant ever presented in the South. It will be a sight worth traveling many miles to see. It will appeal to grown people as well as to children. It will give you a most complete history of the evolution of this growing city.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE TEXAS COTTON PALACE AT 8 P. M.—All Waco will participate in the Formal Opening of the Texas Cotton Palace and thousands of people from all parts of the state who because of this exposition's achievements in the past and who have come to recognize it as the greatest institution of its kind in all the state, will also be here for the Formal Opening ceremonies. Governor James E. Ferguson will officially open the Texas Cotton Palace and this event will be followed by fifteen days that no one can afford to miss.
